CAPTAINS LOG.

STARDATE 24-1-76

It was such a pity that more of you didn't turn up to see the Kursaal Flyers. They are a fine band that are bound to hit it big this year. Anyway don't forget to check out their new album, "The Great Artiste".

STARDATE 27-1-76

We have received a Cosmic cable informing us that HAWKWIND will be returning to Earth in March. At that, frantic efforts were made to try and arrange a possible landing for the spaceship Hawkwind.

STARDATE 28-1-76

Arrangements have now been finalized and confirmed for a landing on 9th March. Max Merritt have very kindly agreed to forego what was to be their gig on the 9th. They will now be appearing later on in the year.

STARDATE 4-2-76

We have just added another date for March, who else could follow Hawkwind but MAN. Space Rock 1999. MAN are a band we have wanted to put on at Malvern for a long time now, and at last it's happened.

STARDATE 12-2-76

Someone else is putting on the Fatback band at the Gardens, and guess what? The tickets are £2.00!!! Yeh that's what we thought. We will tell you something about ticket prices which you will find very interesting, in the next Newsletter.

STARDATE 22-2-76

Andy Dunkley, Roadhawk. A man barely alive, takes up position at the control desk of the Hawkship ready for blastoff to Earth. Outside the spaceship cool and dark space stared back unblinkingly through the plexiglass. "Pulsars operative. Trip circuit function," clattered a hypnopod at his side. Purple light from the dials washed over his face and as he readjusted the coordinates, his consciousness soared into channels of fire.

RED ALERT.

The spacecraft will be landing at the Winter Gardens during the afternoon of the 9th. Count down operation will commence at 8.00p.m. prompt. The journey is estimated to take about 4 hours. All tickets for spaceship Hawkwind are £1.50 obtainable from usual Cherry Red agencies.

SONIC ATTACK.

You will hear a distant hissing in your ears. There will be bleeding from orifices. These are all signs of imminent Sonic Attack. Your only escape is the spaceship, buy your ticket now and journey with us to the Asral Plain.
