

WHO the HELL writes THIS?

Well, what an all time bore the Hawklords gig was, the original Hawkwind were a ace band, but what we experienced the other week was an abortion. As for that moron that started on Tony Coppin at the gig, well what I'd of done to him if I'd seen him is unprintable!! Those of you who know Tony will probably already be aware that he was whisked away to hospital, stitched up and is now as good as new, well almost! As for his attacker he was handed over to the police, they probably told him not to be a naughty boy and let him off!

The Buzzcocks gig. Absolutely everything went wrong that night. The Buzzcocks equipment truck had to make a detour up north to collect some equipment, this made them so late arriving that there was no time to do a sound check, hence the awful sound at the start of their set. As for the Subway Sect well their equipment truck broke down and they never made it in time.

Occasionally, in fact once in a blue moon we promoters get the chance to promote a gig above all the other gigs. Tonight is one of those. Looking back in time, The Damned & Cortinas, The Velvet Underground, Eric Burdon to name a few were all special gigs that were really more than just a gig. Anyway we reckon tonights gig will rank with some of those all time greats.

Another tasty gig that has just been slotted in is, The Pirates for Christmas, December 23rd. They played the Winter Gardens earlier this year and were so excellent that we asked them to do our Christmas gig.

We were going to have the Clash on the 10th November but the first couple of dates of the tour were cancelled and put back to the end of the tour. Trouble was we couldn't get a free date at the Gardens, cause they are booked solid with works Xmas socials and parties etc. So that unfortunately was the end of that. There's always next year so don't be too dissapointed.

On the record scene we released the Tights, Howard Hughes/Chinas Eternal on a limited edition single cassette which you can buy tonight from Bubbles at 70p. You would have to pay 80p if you buy it anywhere else. Our next release is an album by 'MORGAN' featuring MORGAN FISHER who is of course the keyboard player with the BRITISH LIONS. This will be released towards the end of November. Quite an interesting album it is too.

If any of you out there are in a band or know of one that you think will figure as next weeks big deal, then we'd sure like to hear from you! You know the address by now. Also we are interested in anyone who writes music, as we have a publishing company and all now. So keep those tapes rollin in O:K:

Alright you can go and watch Spizz Oil & Siouxsie now. Dont forget to check Bubbles out sometime tonight.

FRANKIE MILLER

NOVEMBER 29th.
LATEST HIT SINGLE "DARLIN"

Frankie Miller's brand new album "Double Trouble" is simply Frankie at his most shattering best. It features no less than ten high energy rock and roll tracks.

Six of which are Frankie originals plus a rendition of Marvin Gaye's "Stubborn Kind of Fellow". All of which give vent to that searing, savage vocal style which has become very much the hallmark of Frankie Miller and Frankie Miller alone. But it's not just Frankie's voice which is worth listening to on "Double Trouble". Produced in England and America by Jack Douglas, with horn arrangements by Chris Mercer, the entire album sets a whole new standard of excellence for Frankie and the band. Listen to it soon. You won't believe your ears.
