

DON'T VOTE. IT ONLY ENCOURAGES THEM.

We did mention in our last news sheet that the Fingers gig would be el superbo! and of course they were excellent. Having seen the Pistols, Clash, Lurkers, Ramones etc. in their heyday, I can't honestly say they ever had the power and conviction that the Fingers have got. When you consider they've been sat over there in Northern Ireland and they just come over and do sets like that it really makes you wonder. Actually quite a few people have said that we always praise the bands that we book! That's trash cos we don't like Gen. X and I personally don't see anything at all in tonight's band, Magazine, but then we're not here to promote what we want, if we got a band we like then it's a bonus!

Just because we haven't promoted a gig now for over a month, doesn't mean to say we've been sat on our backsides! For example, we have three singles soon to be released on our label. The first being from Morgan Fisher who has done an instrumental version of John Otway's 'Geneva'. The B side includes selected works from an unreleased solo Morgan album called "Hand Job". Actually, apart from Otway helping Morgan out with the single sleeve, he joins the John Otway band tour, playing keyboards. Then we have a single by a band called the 'HOLLYWOOD BRATS'. The A side is entitled 'Then he kissed me' backed with 'Sick on You'. Now those of you that know your music will recall that number from the Boy's 1st L.P. - more than that we aint gonna say! The second single from Destroy All Monsters comes out mid May, so that's something to look forward to. Down at Heartbeat label in Bristol the next piece of vinyl is a four track E.P. called '4 Alternatives', which features tracks from The Numbers, Joe Public, The X-Certs and Zoom Club. Oh yeh, Glaxo Babies from that label, will be playing the Phoenix on May 22nd. so don't miss that, right?

Apart from all that we've been dashing around the place, been in Chappel Studios, London, with Joan Jett, Steve Jones, Paul Cook and the Manager of Blondie and the Runaways. Week before last we were at Bristol with John Peel for the Glaxo's gig, went out for a meal with him afterwards, which was an experience to say the least! Last week we were back in Bristol again to see a Heartbeat package of bands at Tiffanys, we got lost in the city centre and had to have a police escort to the gig, aren't our policemen wonderful?

Good to see the Vendettas back in action again, let's have some more gigs now! Happy Birthday Ady and Madelaine!

Just booked DAVE EDMUNDS ROCKPILE for June 23rd. GLAXO BABIES are gonna record a Peel session in a few days time, dunno when it will be broadcast though. Oh yeh, our compilation album, 'Business Unusual' is reviewed in the current issue of VOGUE, posh eh? Talking of the album we've exported it to all the countries you'd expect, i.e. America, Canada, France Germany Etc. but recently we did some to Iceland and Portugal. Who ever would have thought that the Portuguese had an ear for the U.K. Subs? Right thats yer lot, see u at the DICKIES if not before.

Expanding Dickies

THE DICKIES will be coming back to Britain for a lengthy 25-date tour in April following the unexpected success of their 'Incredible Shrinking Dickies' album.

The band, who were last in Britain when they supported Ian Dury and The Blockheads on their British tour.

The band, who want their next album to be produced by former Pistols producer Chris Thomas, will be bringing over their American protégés Holly And The Italians as their support band.

A new three-track single featuring 'Banana Splits' will be released by A&M to coincide with the tour.
