

DESTROY ALL MONSTERS

Well I'm sure you, like us were a little apprehensive about the Siouxsie gig, but in actual fact they turned out to be rather excellent, probably better than if Morris and McKay had been with them. Having now played their records they all seem rather weak and lacking. Still that might be partly due to the heavy volume they had, but when you're using Motorheads PA and sound engineers I suppose that inevitable. The Cure were also very good, much improved since we last saw them at the Plough in Cheltenham.

Well apart from excellent music, there was also a really good atmosphere as well, which makes a pleasant change, lets keep that going eh?

In future the doors will open at 7.30 pm, instead of the usual 8.00 pm OK.

Tonights support band are, 'The Donkeys' from Manchester way. Really looking forward to seeing them as they had a great debut single out on Rhesus Records, which we believe has now been licensed and released on Derum, (ugh!!).

Our next gig is Lene Lovich, on October 15th supporting are Jane Aire and the Belrederes and Dutch band the Meteors. Tickets are on sale at all agencies and available from Bubbles in the Bar, as are the Motorhead tickets if you so feel inclined!! Up and coming are SQUEEZE and The PHOTOS on I think 28 November, Motorhead December 5th and Dr Feelgood on 22nd December.

We've been rather suprised to hear such a commotion, in particular from local bands about the Photos signing to CBS for £75,000 or whatever. They achieved that by working bloody hard and not sitting on their back sides like other local outfits. It's true we did introduce them to their manager, but managers don't get deals like that unless they're got something worth while to offer record companies. Anyway there really nice people and deserve all the success they will ger. I personally haven't seen them for several months now, but Iains been to virtually every London gig they 've done, so I for one am really looking forward to seeing them next month.

While we're on the subject of local bands, we'd really like to see more of 'Screamer' (gawd what a name!) that's if they can find the enthusiasm to pick up a guitar. The majority of the other local bands and rock luminaries would do better to get down to some hard work instead of shouting their mouths off and posing around!

The Nags Head has now re opened on the 9th they have a local night, (hint, hint, Screamer!) 16th October Ariators, 23rd October DENIZENS, 30th October DEADLY TOYS.

A lot people have asked why Destroy All Monsters aren't playing Malvern, simple reason is we couldn't slot a date into the tour, expecially with Siouxsie, SLF, and Lene Lovich all be so close together. Anyway the nearest they come to us is J.Bs at Dudley tomorrow night, the 6th. Actually Dudley aint that far by car 'bout 40 minutes in fact J.Bs is a good place to see um as the drink is so cheap there. We shall be releasing a new single by them soon called, 'Nobody Knows' backed with, 'What do i get', (nothing to do with the Buzzcocks). It's a real loud over the top thrash in true DAM style.

Local hero of some years ago Gavin King has at ong last got a band together called, 'Pi/vate Dicks'. A single has just been released by the Bristol label Heartbeat called, 'She said Go', a definite grower, well worth 90p of anybodys hard earned money. Also worth checking out from that label is the compilation album of local Bristol Bands called, 'Avon Calling', neat title eh? Oh well thats it enjoy the Fingers, but leave the aggro for the terraces!!
